

ROBOT COMBAT CHAMPIONSHIP

Marc Gabbene 2001

BATTLEBOTS®

MAY 24-28, 2001 • TREASURE ISLAND, BUILDING 180 • SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

WELCOME TO BATTLEBOTS!

BattleBots is the sport of remote controlled robotic combat. Imagine a face-off between Hollywood special effects artists, rocket scientists, software designers and garage tinkerers -- put their creations in a modernistic boxing arena and watch the sparks fly!

BattleBots contestants design and build radio controlled robots weighing up to 488 lbs. that employ an array of destructive weaponry such as hammers, saws, and spikes. This is the ultimate contest of engineering, strategy and creativity, and the goal is survival. BattleBots is great entertainment for the entire family and an exhilarating experience you'll never forget.

THE RULES

MATCH TYPES - Two match types may be entered in BattleBots:

- 1) Robot Duel - One-on-one tournament within weight classifications.
- 2) Robot Rumble - Free-for-all combat within weight classifications.

DECIDING A WINNER - At the conclusion of each match, three official BattleBots judges shall ascertain the winner using the following criteria in the order they are given.

- 1) If the match was stopped because one participant's BattleBot was incapacitated, the other participant shall be declared the winner.
- 2) If both participants' BattleBots are mobile at the end of the match time, the winner shall be determined by the following point system:

There are a total of forty five (45) points to be awarded

Three (3) judges award fifteen (15) points each (a total of forty five (45) points) as follows:

Five (5) points are split between the two BattleBots, with the majority of points going to the BattleBot that is more aggressive

Five (5) points are split between the two BattleBots, with the majority of points going to the BattleBot that causes more damage to the other BattleBot.

Five (5) points are split between the two BattleBots, with the majority of points going to the BattleBot that employs and executes a better strategy.

The BattleBot with the most points shall be declared the winner!

Twas The Night Before BattleBots

Twas the night before BattleBots and all through the town
The Builders were anxious, all set to get down,
Their tools were laid out in the pit area with care,
In hopes that they wouldn't be needed much there,

The competitors rested all snug in their beds
While visions of Golden Nuts danced in their heads.
And Trey built the box with some help from his friends
Where many a robot would meet nasty ends.

Too many to mention 600 in all!
We wondered if we would be finished by fall!
But Erica, Jim, Carlo, Trey and the rest
Were determined to make this year's rumble the Best

Ft. Mason, it seemed would be too small to hold
All the bots and their teams, so we were all told
Treasure Island would host all the glorious fights
For six shattering days and five bot-crunching nights!

The Tilfords had brought all their killing machines
Setrakian brought some real cool looking things,
Smentowski had Nightmare all powered to go,
And Grant Imahara showed up with DeadBlow,

The Sklar Brothers showed up to talk to the crews
While Heidi Marks looked for additional news
Dwyer and Salisbury would do play by play
Bill Nye gave out Robotic tips of the day

The Audience piled in by the thousands it seemed
And all of the eager competitors beamed
For this year would truly outdo all the others
And the cheers could be heard from the Dads to the Daughters

When up from the Battlebox with a glorious shout
Mark Biero introduced all the bots for each Bout.
On Mauler, On Nightmare, On Minion, and Bio!
On Toe Crusher, KillerHurtz, Frenzy and Ziggo!

The Drivers were ready, And Gosh! so were we
The only thing left was to light up the tree
So out to BattleBox with a Buzz and a Chime
The lights are on, the Box is locked,
IT'S ROBOT FIGHTING TIME!!!
